A question of time
That mysterious value

It is a shadow on the dial . . .
the striking of a clock
or the running of the sand

It is day and night summer and winter.

Passing of months, years, centuries . . .

These are but the measure of time . . .
not time itself.

And so we perceive that
The past is gone

The future has not come

The present becomes the past even while we live it.

The present, like the flash of lightning, exists and expires.

We look to the future.

And now, as we pause for an accounting of the past, we feel a unique and inspiring respect for the illusiveness of years gone by. Moments recaptured by memory give us joy and sadness, and a kind of wisdom. By our deeds we have learned how to act. By our associations we have learned to deal with others. By our education we have learned how to apply our learning for a valuable purpose.

Since we have passed through the long hallways of tradition and history, we express a desire to make known our resolve. We stand on the threshold of a momentous era. We shall take up the challenge which lies ahead, the splendid mystery which no mortal eye has yet seen, and no intelligence has yet declared. "Each moment as it passes is the meeting-place of two eternities." Our past eternity is seemingly slight; our future eternity holds a myriad of purposes. We shall learn from our experiences, and our whole nature will rush onward with an irresistible force, toward a future and better state of being.

DEDICATION

A man who brings to bear all the wisdom of his years in a tangible, affirmative, approach to education . . .
A man who takes things—including himself—seriously,
only as they affect his students . . .
A man who achieves an awareness of the realities of life in his imparting knowledge . . .
Such a man is to be admired.

Dr. Maurice P. Moffatt, constant friend of the senior class, is such a man. He possesses the rare gift of subtle humor, and a certain look in his eye. His qualities as a teacher have endeared him to us. He has prepared us for the future in such a way that we cannot forget him.

In him we see a person who combines a steadfastness of purpose with a diversity of interests. He is the picture of a whole man, one who will leave his mark deeply inscribed in the minds and hearts of all who know him.

In acknowledgement of many years of unselfish and inspiring service to College High School, we the Class of 1964, dedicate this yearbook to Dr. Maurice P. Moffatt.

IN MEMORY

JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY 1917-1963

He's gone, he's dead. A man who walked with us, who led us, a man who helped us, who changed us. He was the first that we could see and understand all of—the youth, the vitality, the virility, the strength, the drive, the dedication. He was the first in our time, to pass on. Nothing we can do will bring him back. Now we walk alone, without him. We will feel again, laugh again, hate again, love again . . . But he left something with us for our journey. He remains still, stronger. And maybe now we can do a little better.

FIRST SEMESTER COUNCIL

The Student Council's major achievement in the first semester was the adoption of the amendment changing the election procedure. The change was the approval of a proposal requiring any prospective candidate for a Student Council office to submit a letter of intent. It has proved to be a beneficial system in its first trial. Among the council's achievements was its respectable budget at the term's conclusion and the adoption of a model constitution. Besides these, the Council was confronted with the usual task of ticket selling for busses and dances, and the arrangement of a crowded calendar. President von Suskil and his assistants were confronted with the unusual problem which resulted with the ban on activities in December. The Council held a special meeting in an attempt to resolve the situation.

SECOND SEMESTER COUNCIL

During the Second Semester, the Student Council centered its work on increasing its strength. The Council, under the leadership of President John Young, drafted a new Constitution consisting of a new list of rules and by-laws, a new amendment procedure, a new system for electing alternate representatives, and a new definition of majorities. An Officer Council was instituted as a subordinate body which advised the Student Council on disciplinary action, cooperation in school activities, and stimulation of underclass participation. The Council once again joined and worked with the New Jersey Association of Student Councils. It also enforced Parliamentary Procedure with certain alterations to further the efficiency of the body. The Council also sponsored the Junior-Senior Game, installed a bench by the Northern entrance of College High, and inaugurated a Student Council book which included all data concerning issues facing the body.

LA CAMPANILLA - 1964

The Class of 1964 discovered that the task of printing a yearbook is not easy. Under the direction of Editor-in-Chief Robert Tuteur and a staff headed by Gordon Harrison, Robert Seidman, Sue Todd, Richard Farrand, Beverly Opper, and Pat Sheft, the book progressed slowly. The advertising campaign, headed by Glenn Rice and Robert Roche proved to be hard going, but was successful in the end. Able assistance was given by all members of the class, notably Sanford Biber, Martha Ackelsberg, Abby Natelson, Barbara Reuter, Richard Kalb, John Young, Jim von Suskil, and Alice Cenci.

Many problems were encountered in trying to publish a "better" La Campanilla. The Class of 1964 hopes that it has furthered the standards of the yearbook through its hard work.

CLASS OF 1964 ASSUMES CRIER

Though lacking the benefits of a journalism course the Class of '64 nevertheless, kept the school informed and entertained through their presentation of the CRIER. Each member of the staff undertook the burden of responsibility as a challenge to his individual resourcefulness. Editor-in-Chief John Young changed the policy of the tri-weekly publication to one of broader concepts, attempting to encompass the needs of the entire school rather than just the class.

Together the staff formed a new masthead, attended the 39th Annual Columbia Scholastic Press Convention in March 1963, tried a full page of pictures, strived for original layouts, installed a Student Forum and Letters to the Editor department, included literature, developed a serious and accurate sports page, and initiated advertising. The staff was enlarged to include members from all six classes, worked closely with the Alumni Association on a joint issue, and published two six page issues. As a whole the Class of '64 attempted to make the CRIER represent the complete student body and put College High in perspective with Montclair State College.

HISTORY CLUB

Once again this year the History Club proved itself to be the most active club at College High. The Club commenced its activities by re-electing John Graeter to the office of President, electing Michael Lehr and Abby Natelson to the offices of Vice-President and Secretary respectively, appointing Debating Team chairmen John Young and Richard Farrand, and formed a Model U.N. committee headed by Betsy Ehrenberg. Encouraged by the success of last year's Model U.N., President Graeter, along with five other delegates from the Club, attended the Model U.N. that met in Mount Vernon, New York. In order to raise the necessary funds, the Club sponsored its annual dinner-dance. The Debating Team, under the auspices of the History Club, and advisor Mr. John Bell, held several debates with local schools and applied for membership to the National Forensic League.

LATIN CLUB

With Dr. Bock as their sponsor, the Latin Club at College High School enjoyed another active year. Election of officers in the fall brought the following results: Elizabeth Berle, President; Richard Farrand, Jean Kahelin, and Steve Dowinsky, Vice Presidents; Martha Ackelsberg, Treasurer, and Michele Rainier, Secretary. Under their leadership, the Club held its annual slave sale, auctioning off those sophomores in the Latin I class. Members of the Junior Classical League again this year, many in the club attended meetings in Bloomfield and Somerville, and in addition, the Club was responsible for a "Latin in Action" project at the State Convention in Atlantic City.

BOWLING CLUB

Under the able leadership of President Gordon Harrison, the Bowling Club of College High has flourished into one of the most active clubs in the school. Commencing with the second semester, the Club has managed to meet and bowl weekly at the Belclair Lanes in Montclair. At each meeting, a tally is kept by President Harrison of the highs, lows and averages of each member. The Bowling Club promises to be an active club in the future.

CHORUS

Although somewhat diminished in size this year, the Chorus presented the usual outstanding performances at both the Christmas and Spring Concerts. The group, composed of ninth through twelfth graders, elected Valerie Sheppard President, Pam Waite Business Manager, and Ruth Burton Secretary, early in the fall. Under the direction of Dr. Alex H. Zimmerman, the Chorus continued many old traditions and established some new ones, such as singing and humming a number of A Cappella pieces.

The Chorus as they perform at the Christmas Concert.

ORCHESTRA

College High's first orchestra since 1955, was under the able direction of Mr. William B. Shadel. One of the largest orchestras ever assembled at College High, the group was composed of seventh graders through Seniors. The orchestra performed several selections at the Christmas Concert, the Spring Concert, and Graduation.

The 7th and 8th Grades perform together at the Christmas Concert.

7TH AND 8TH GRADES

For the first time this year, the seventh and eighth grades combined to form a chorus of unusual caliber. The group, directed by Mr. William B. Shadel, gave excellent performances at both the Christmas and Spring Concerts. Their surprising range and versatility delighted both audiences.

FOOTBALL

C.H.S. 6 Croydon Hall 6

College High drew first blood on a first period 65 yard T.D. run by Jim von Suskil in the season's opener on a dusty Sprague Field. The Ponies held fast until the third quarter when Croydon scored on a 70 yard screen pass play. Both teams missed the extra point and the game ended in a deadlock.

Oakland 18 C.H.S. 14

Oakland received the opening kick-off and scored just two downs later on a 50 yard run at Mountainside Park Field. Fred Thimme scored for College High, to tie the score, on a 30 yard pass from von Suskil. John Young converted and the Ponies took a 7-6 lead. In the second half Oakland scored two quick touchdowns to take the lead 18-7. A last quarter 50 yard T.D. run by von Suskil was to no avail as time ran out with Oakland in possession of the ball.

C.H.S. 26 Saddle River 20

The Rebels scored first but the Ponies quickly came back to tie the score as von Suskil took the kick-off on his own 15 yard line and carried to the Rebel's 30. Bill Phillips carried to the 19, Young caught a short pass on the 15, Jim Graeter ran to the 10 and von Suskil went over for the score. Phillips converted but half a minute later Saddle River scored and took the lead 14-7. The Ponies fought right back as Young ran the kick-off 50 yards for the T.D. CHS missed the conversion as the half ended 14-13 with the Ponies trailing. CHS took a decisive lead, early in the third quarter, as they march 40 yards with Phillips scoring. Another Phillips T.D. made it 26 big points for CHS.

Dioguardi.

Oakland 41 C.H.S. 7

The Ponies lost a very poorly played ball game to an improved Oakland team, at Oakland. Wayne Fisher scored College High's lone touchdown on a 90 yard kick-off return.

Croydon Hall 40 C.H.S. 0

College High ventured to the Atlantic Highlands only to be beaten by the strongest Croydon Hall team the Ponies had ever seen. CHS fumbles and Croydon interceptions set up an easy Croydon victory, although the Ponies were outgained by only four yards.

C.H.S. 34 Saddle River 13

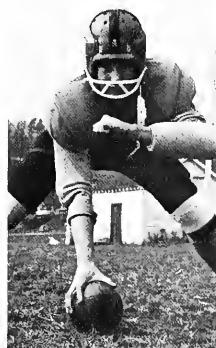

In the Ponies' last game of the season, the traditional Election Day contest, CHS produced their best show of the season. John Ryerson took the opening kick-off and raced 82 yards for the touchdown behind a wall of superb blocking by Young, von Suskil, Van Ness and Richard Garnett. Seconds later the Ponies scored again after they forced the Rebels to punt. It was Ryerson again, this time on an 85 yard pass play from Fisher. The Ponies hit paydirt again as von Suskil went 60 yards after intercepting a Rebel pass. Fisher tossed his second T.D. pass to Dick Butchko. With one minute remaining in the first half College High engineered an 80 yard scoring march in which the Ponies displayed their best football of the season. They completed seven out of eight passes on the drive. Von Suskil snagged three passes and Young pulled in two in the drive. The drive was capped by a 20 yard T.D. toss grabbed by Young on a fake field goal attempt by Thimme. Saddle River scored twice but could not match the Ponies.

College High School's Cagers closed their 1963-64 basketball season with a respectable 10-5 record. Only one team, Montclair Academy, beat the Ponies twice, although the Cagers lost two heartbreakers.

The CHS Hoopsters opened the season with three straight wins. The first victory was against Saddle River, a game which got off to a slow start. However, the Ponies' second half surge sewed the game up. Largely due to a good scouting report on behalf of the CHS squad, the Ponies completely overpowered a very much surprised Carteret team and walked away with the victory. The College High Alumni fell next as the Ponies held the lead throughout most of the game.

HEARTBREAK FOR CHS—College High had 19 regular season wins in a row, over a two year span, until the Ponies traveled to St. Bernards, only to lose a heart-breaker by one point. The Cagers made a valiant effort in the closing minutes but missed two shots in the final seconds which insured the Bernards victory.

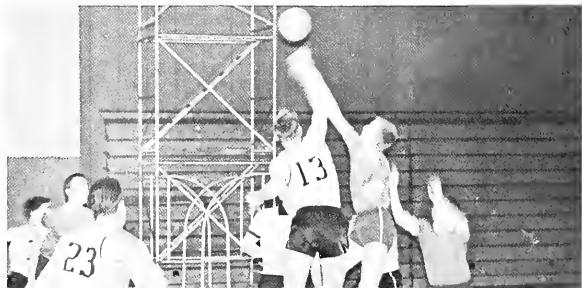

The Ponies whipped Wardlaw, Morristown (twice) and Rutgers Prep but were overpowered twice by a better Montclair Academy team.

Newark Academy fell next in a surprise CHS victory. The Ponies, much the underdogs, led all the way. However, at Newark, in the team's second encounter, the Academy dominated the entire game.

In their last two games of the season the Cagers whipped Saddle River but lost a tough one at Carteret.

OVERTIME THRILLER—In one of the most exciting and most suspenseful basketball games in a long time, College High took St. Bernards into overtime and beat them. The Ponies led throughout the game (23-5 at one time) but with just seconds to go found themselves three points down. Dick Butchko sent the game into overtime (64-64) with a three point play. In the overtime St. Bernards scored a quick basket but two buckets by Captain Bob Seidman, a Butchko foul shot, and two additional foul shots by Fred Thimme put the game out of reach. High man for CHS was Wayne Fisher with 25 points. Seidman was next with 18.

Captain John Graeter

This year, despite a mediocre 4-5 record, College High's cross country team was strong on participation, spirit, and talent. The Harriers were led by Captain John Graeter, seniors Gordon Harrison and Bob Roche, sophomores Steve Mollov and Ken Orbach, freshmen Mike Weaver and Harry Sobel. The team was coached by Dr. John Redd, Jack Parish and Dan Morsey.

The season began with a controversial meet against Montclair Academy. The score was originally 27-28 in favor of the Academy, but later examination of the displacement rule gave the meet to College High, 28-34. The Harriers then lost a close one to their arch-rivals, Wardlaw.

The Harriers were shellacked in meets against Paterson Tech and St. Bonaventure. The two powerful teams outclassed College High completely.

On October 22, the Harriers shut-out Carteret, taking the first nine places. In a meet at Englewood, Captain Graeter set a course record in leading the team to an 18-37 victory.

The CHS Harriers finished up the season with losses to Morristown and Wardlaw but scored another smashing shut-out against Carteret.

The only thing the team lacked this year was a winning season. However the prospects for a winning season next year look bright.

J.V. BASKETBALL

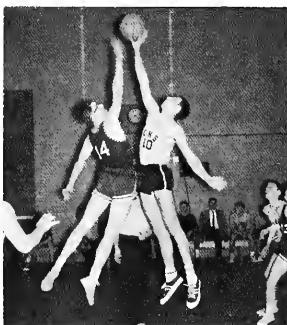

The College High Junior Varsity finished up their 1963-64 slate with a good 5-2 record. After losing two games, one to Montclair Academy and one to Newark Academy, they came back to win four straight to close the season.

The J.V.'s romped over Wardlaw in the opening game of the season, but were beaten by Monclair and Newark in their next two contests.

A quick win over Carteret bolstered the team's morale enough for the J.V. to come back and beat Montclair and Newark. The Junior Varsity then finished their season by clobbering Carteret for a 5-2 over-all record.

The success of the Junior Varsity is attributed to their coach, Pete Boubles, a Montclair State freshman, and the hard working team members.

Jay Waldner jumps for College High.

The College High baseball team opened their 1963 season against Newark Academy. The Ponies lost 8-2. Next CHS lost to Morristown 8-0. The Ponies were completely outplayed by the superior Morristown team. Jeff Van Orden had the only College High hit.

PONIES BLAST CARTERET—Staging their first victory of the season, College High demolished Carteret 15-5. Steve Prystowsky ('63) was the winning pitcher, giving up no earned runs and striking out fourteen.

College High lost their next game to Montclair Academy 15-4. Mike Lehr had the only extra base hit, a double. He was also the losing pitcher. College High lost to a strong St. Bernards team 8-3. Against Montclair Academy again, the Ponies opened up with three runs in the top half of the first inning, but they were finally defeated 9-5. St. Bernards beat the Ponies for the second time by a score of 7-3.

College High ended up the season with a 7-1 victory over Saddle River. Steve Prystowsky pitched an impressive game, giving up only two hits.

This year the team should prove better than last year's squad.

The 1963 CHS Golf Team went undefeated for the second straight year, climaxing the season (8-0) with their fifteenth consecutive victory. For the first time the Linksters participated in the NJSIAA tournament finishing fourteenth in a field of public and private schools from all parts of the state. Quite a feat!

The golfers responsible for this extraordinary performance were Gordon Harrison, Bob Roche, Captain Ray Olsen (class of '63), Rick Kalb, and alternate Fred Thimme. Gordon Harrison played first man and, facing the opposition's best player, won six matches, lost one and tied one, 6-1-1. Bob Roche was undefeated as second man, 8-0-0, and took all points in all his matches except one. Ron Olsen, serving as Captain for the second straight year, finished with a 7-0-1 record as third man. Rick Kalb, in the fourth spot, won six of his seven matches, 6-1-0, though hampered by a sore back. Fred Thimme substituted for Rick Kalb in the final meet of the season, winning a hard-fought contest.

This season the team had three of the four regulars returning. The loss of Capt. Ron Olson left the lone weak spot, but Fred Thimme will hopefully prove to be an experienced replacement who will probably play full time this year.

The golf team should expect an even better season than last year, with lower scores, more victories, and a better showing in the State Tourney.

Dear Seniors,

Congratulations. We are proud of your achievement as one of the finest classes to be graduated from College High School.

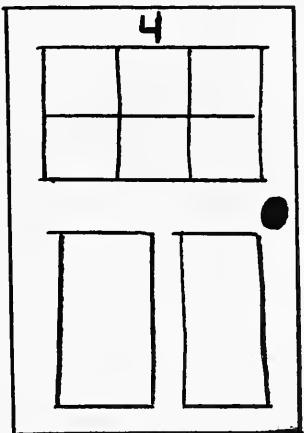

We have enjoyed watching you grow and mature as we participated with you in your many-faceted activities. We admire your loyalty to each other and to your school, your ability to disagree on issues, but yet to remain steadfast friends. We pray that your faith and idealism will continue to increase from day to day and that all these qualities will carry you on to full and rewarding lives.
